AWA Receives Scholarship from ASPCA

Executive Director to Participate in SAWA Annual National Conference

November 12, 2014

Voorhees, NJ: Animal Welfare Association (AWA) today announced that it has been granted a Scholarship to Attend Society of Animal Welfare Administrators (SAWA) National Conference.

“Being able to participate in the SAWA Conference will help us further our work at AWA”, said Maya Richmond, Executive Director of AWA. “There is a lot of exciting research being done in animal welfare right now and some of the top leaders in the field will be at the conference to share their information and insights.”

The SAWA 2014 Annual Conference, held in November in Dallas, TX, features lectures and demonstrations from some of the nation’s top veterinarians, trainers, and researchers in the field of animal welfare.

About AWA

The Animal Welfare Association, a private, non-profit, 501(c) 3 animal welfare organization, serves the people and animals of southern New Jersey. AWA is dedicated to eliminating animal suffering, promoting the importance of the human-animal bond, and improving the role of animals in the well-being of people. Through a variety of programs including adoptions, veterinary services, pet therapy, and humane education, in 2013 over 23,000 pets were served through AWA programming. AWA is South Jersey’s leader in progressive companion animal care.
